A guy out on the golf course takes a high speed ball right in the crotch. Writhing in agony, he falls to the ground.

When he finally gets himself to the doctor, he asks, "How bad is it, doc? I'm going on my honeymoon next week, and my fiancée is still a virgin in every way."

The doc says, "I'll have to put your penis in a splint to let it heal and keep it straight. It should be okay next week."

So the doctor took four tongue depressors and formed a neat little 4-sided bandage, and wired it all together; an impressive work of art.

The guy mentions none of this to his girl, marries, and on his honeymoon night in the motel room, she rips open her blouse to reveal a gorgeous set of breasts. This was the first time he'd seen them.

She says, "You'll be the first. No one has ever touched these breasts."

He whips down his pants and says, "Look at this - it's still in the crate!"

There's a guy from New York (Rangers Fan) driving from Madison Square Garden to The Comcast Center, and a guy from Philadelphia (Flyers Fan) driving from Philadelphia to New York (why to New York, who knows?).

In the middle of the night, with no other cars on the road, they hit each other head on and both cars go flying off in different directions.

The Rangers fan manages to climb out of his car and survey the damage. He looks at his twisted car and says, "Man, I am really lucky to be alive!"

Likewise the Flyer's Fan scrambles out of his car and looks at his wreckage. He too says to himself, "I can't believe I survived this wreck!"

The Ranger guy walks over to the Flyer guy and says, "Hey man, I think this is a sign from God that we should put away our petty differences and live as friends instead of archrivals."

The Flyer thinks for a moment and says, "You know, you're absolutely right! We should be friends. Now I'm gonna see what else survived this wreck."

So the Flyer pops open his trunk and finds a full unopened bottle of Jack Daniels. He says to the Ranger, "I think this is another sign from God that we should toast to our new found understanding and friendship."

The Ranger fan says, "You're damn right!" and he grabs the bottle and starts sucking down Jack Daniels.

After putting away nearly half the bottle the Rangers fan hands it back to the Flyers Fan and says, "Your turn!" The Flyer guy twists the cap back on the bottle and says, "Nahh, I think I'll wait for the cops to show up."

THE RULES OF BEDROOM GOLF

1. Each player shall furnish his own equipment for play - normally one club and two balls.
2. Play on a course must be approved by the owner of the hole. The course owner will be the sole judge of who is the best player on that course.
3. Unlike outdoor golf, the object is to get the club in the hole and keep the balls out.
4. For most effective play, the club should have a firm shaft. Course owners are permitted to check shaft stiffness before play begins.
5. Course owners reserve the right to restrict club length to avoid damage to the hole.
6. The object of the game is to take as many strokes as necessary until the course owner is satisfied that play is complete. Failure to do so may result in being denied permission to play the course again.
7. It is considered bad form to begin playing the hole immediately upon arrival at the course. The experienced player will normally take time to admire the entire course with special attention to well formed bunkers.
8. Players are cautioned not to mention other courses they have played, or are currently playing, to the owner of the course being played. Upset course owners have been known to damage players equipment for this reason.
9. Players are encouraged to bring proper rain gear for their own protection.
10. Players should ensure themselves that their match has been properly scheduled, particularly when a new course is being played for the first time. Previous players have been known to become irate if they discover someone else playing on what they considered to be a private course.
11. Players should not assume a course is in shape for play at all times. Some players may be embarrassed if they find the course to be temporarily under repair. Players are advised to be extremely tactful in this situation. More advanced players will find alternative means of play when this is the case.
12. The course owner is responsible for manicuring and pruning any bush around the hole to allow for improved viewing of, alignment with, and approach to the hole.
13. Players are advised to obtain the course owners permission before attempting to play the back nine.
14. Slow play is encouraged. However, players should be prepared to proceed at a quicker pace, at least temporarily, at the course owner's request.
15. It is considered outstanding performance, time permitting, to play the same hole several times in one match.

It was a beautiful sunny day at the golf course. The gentleman took aim on the ball and drove his first shot deep into a wooded area. He sighed and proceeded to the area where the ball had gone into the woods. As he was looking around for his ball, he heard a voice calling to him.

He whirled around and there stood a very ugly witch. She had his golf ball and explained to him that it had hit her in the head. She was not very pleased about this, but went on to explain that she had little contact with the outside world and when she did have an encounter, she considered it a special occasion.

The witch said that she had magical powers and would grant the man one wish. However, when the wish was granted, the man would notice a tremendous decrease in his sexual desire and ability to perform. The man thought about this for a few minutes and then stated that he would agree to those conditions.

The witch asked what his wish was and the man simply stated, "I want my golf game to improve." The witch rocked back on her heels and stared at the man. After a few minutes she said, "Is that all?" He said, "Yes, that's it." The witch said, "Are you telling me that is all you want, when you could have anything in this world?" The man looked her in straight in the eyes and said, "Yes."

Two years later, on another beautiful day, the man was at the same golf course and drove a tee shot into the woods. He started shaking because he had not hooked or sliced a shot since the day he had encountered the witch. He went into the woods and there stood the witch. She looked at him and said, "I made your shot go bad because I wanted to talk to you." The man was visibly relieved when he heard this and asked what she wanted. The witch wanted to know if he had any regrets about his wish. The man said, "Well, things couldn't be better with my golf game. I've won every major tournament on the amateur circuit and I'll soon be on the PGA tour. As far as my sex life, I have only had six encounters in 2 years."

"Hasn't that bothered you?" asked the witch. The man said, "No, I'm all right". The witch said, "Well, I'm glad it all worked out, although there is nothing you or I can do about it now - the spell that was cast can never be changed."

With that, they parted company. On his way out to the fairway, the man said to himself, "The PGA Tour and sex three times a year - not bad for a small parish priest".

I got a tip from my pro too. After some pretty shabby swings I asked him what I could do to improve my game. He said "Ted I think you're over golfed, I suggest you lay off for about three weeks and then sell your clubs".

Did you hear about the near sighted golfer? He kept driving his caddy's nuts!!!

A woman went into the doctor because she was stung by a bee. When the doctor asked what happened she replied "Well I was playing golf and got stung by a bee between the first and second hole." The doctor said "I know what your problem is - your stance is too wide....."

The newlyweds were in the elevator, headed for the honeymoon suite when the groom asked, "Tell me the truth. Have you ever made love to anyone before?"

The bride blushed and admitted that she had had one previous encounter. Incensed, he demanded the name of the offender. Meekly, she told him of a chance encounter with Arnold Palmer several years prior. Thinking that over, the jealous groom concluded that Arnold posed no continuing threat to their future and put the thought behind him.

They made love for the first time. It was wonderful. The groom rolled over and reached for the phone. "What are you doing?" she asked. He explained that he was calling room service to send up something to eat and drink. She shook her head and said, "Arnold didn't do that."

"Oh? he said. "What did ARNOLD do?"

She replied, "He rested for a couple of minutes and we made love again." That sounded pretty good to him, too. He mustered his reserves and made love to his new bride a second time. Again, it was good. Finished, he reached for the phone. She interrupted with, "What are you doing?"

Patiently he explained that he was calling room service to have food and drinks sent up. She shook her head. "Arnold didn't do that."

"And what did Arnold do NOW?" he asked.

"He rested a moment and made love to me a third time," she said.

Visibly shaken, the new groom gathered himself as best he could and managed a second encore. Finished and exhausted, he reached for the phone. "You're not calling room service, are you?" she queried.

"No," he said. "I'm calling Arnold Palmer to find out what par is on this hole!"

There were three golf buddies, one of which was from Japan. The Japanese golfer invited the other two to come and play in Japan. When finding out that one of the American golfers was still a virgin, the other two decided to take him to a Japanese whore house the night before the game. The young virgin was nervous, but proceeded with the girl. She began screaming "aku, aku!" He assumed he must be doing a good job.

The next day on the course, the young golfer got a hole in one. He shouted out "aku, aku!" The Japanese golfer turned to him and said "What do you mean that's the wrong hole?"

A Scottish man went to a baseball game for the first time. Having never seen the sport, he sat quietly to observe and learn the rules of the game.

The first batter approached the mound, took a few swings and then hit a double. Everyone was on their feet screaming, "Run, Run." This happened two more times, with a single and a triple. The Scotsman was now excited and ready to get into the game. The next batter came up and four balls went by.

The umpire called "walk" and the batter started on a slow trot to first. The Scotsman, extremely excited now, stood up and screamed, "R-R-Run ye basstarrd, rrrun!" Everyone around him started laughing. So the Scotsman, extremely embarrassed, sat back down. A friendly fan, seeing the Scotsman's embarrassment, leaned over and said, "He can't run - he got four balls." The Scotsman then stood up and screamed, "Walk with pride, man..walk with pride!"

The psychology instructor had just finished a lecture on mental health and was giving an oral test. Speaking specifically about manic depression, she asked, "How would you diagnose a patient who walks back and forth screaming at the top of his lungs one minute, then sits in a chair weeping uncontrollably the next?"

A young man in the rear raised his hand and answered, "A basketball coach?"

John Elway, after living a full life, died.

When he got to heaven, God was showing him around. They came to a modest little house with a faded Broncos flag in the window.

"This house is yours for eternity, John," said God, "and this is very special because not everyone gets a house up here."

John felt special, indeed, and walked up to his house. On his way up the porch, he noticed another house just around the corner. It was a 3-story mansion with a Green and Gold sidewalk, 50 foot tall flagpole with an enormous Packers logo flag, and in every window, a Cheesehead.

John looked at God and said: "God, I'm not trying to be ungrateful, but I have a question. I was an all-pro QB, I won 2 Super Bowls, and I even went to the hall of fame."

God said, "So what do you want to know, John?"

"Well, why does Brett Favre get a better house than me?"

God chuckled, and said "John, that's not Brett Favre's house, it's mine."

The Golf Genie

A couple was golfing one day on a very, very exclusive golf course, lined with million dollar houses. On the third tee the husband said, "Honey, be very careful when you drive the ball don't knock out any windows. It'll cost us a fortune to fix."

The wife teed up and shanked it right through the window of the biggest house on the course. The husband cringed and said, "I told you to watch out for the houses. Alright, let's go up there, apologize and see how much this is going to cost."

They walked up, knocked on the door, and heard a voice say, "Come on in." They opened the door and saw glass all over the floor and a broken bottle lying on its side in the foyer. A man on the couch said, "Are you the people that broke my window?"

"Uh, yeah. Sorry about that." the husband replied.

"No, actually I want to thank you. I'm a genie that was trapped for a thousand years in that bottle. You've released me. I'm allowed to grant three wishes- I'll give you each one wish, and I'll keep the last one for myself."

"OK, great!" the husband said. "I want a million dollars a year for the rest of my life." "No problem-it's the least I could do. And you, what do you want?" the genie said, looking at the wife.

"I want a house in every country of the world," she said.

"Consider it done." the genie replied.

"And what's your wish, genie?", the husband said.

"Well, since I've been trapped in that bottle, I haven't had sex with a woman in a thousand years. My wish is to sleep with your wife."

The husband looks at the wife and said, "Well, we did get a lot of money and all those houses, honey. I guess I don't care." The genie took the wife upstairs and ravished her for two hours.

After it was over, the genie rolled over, looked at the wife, and said, "How old is your husband, anyway?"

"35." she replied.

"And he still believes in genies?????? ...That's amazing."
